Nevada Geographic Information Society (NGIS)
2005 Business Meeting
15th Annual Nevada State GIS Conference
John Ascuaga's Nugget
Sparks, Nevada
April 21, 2005

I. Call Meeting to Order

President Matt Setty welcomed the attendees and called the meeting to order. Matt started off by thanking everyone involved with putting the conference together this year. He also thanked all the speakers and vendors who took the time to participate. Matt also gave a review of the activities of the past year. Highlights touched on the background of the NGIS move from a 501c6 to a 501c3 organization, the society's increased focus on rural communities throughout the state, the new proposed Web Page Committee and the proposed establishment of the position of NGIS Historian. Matt also recognized Sue Buto for her years as the newsletter editor and thanked her for her efforts. He also mentioned that the membership list has been separated out into those who attend the conferences and the general membership. Adam and Jennifer were thanked for their efforts with the website and implementation of the online payment system.

II. Action Item: Approval of the 2004 Annual Membership meeting minutes

IV. Annual Reports

A. Treasures Report – Gary Johnson

Gary announced that this is the first year the State Conference has offered the use of the PayPal service to pay for the registration of the conference. Fifty-seven (57) attendees and seven (7) vendors took advantage of this online service.

This year $36,000 were collected in registration fees. $2,000 of which will go to the Savings Account / Scholarship Fund bringing the balance of the account to $6,000.

In closing Gary mentioned that the organization has continually seen a gradual increase in membership year after year and that the society is currently in good financial condition. Gary also thanked everyone for their efforts associated with the conference.

B. Conference Update – Jan Gould

Jan started out by mentioning that all 50 rooms reserved at the Nugget were sold out before the start of the conference. A head count indicated that this year there were 40 vendors, 178 individual registrations, 24 volunteers, 33 additional speakers and 27 guests for a record total of 302 attendees.

Jan expressed her appreciation for all the efforts of the entire Conference Committee team. Each member was introduced and thanked for their efforts.

Matt returned to the podium and discussed some of the feedback received regarding the pre and post workshops that are held in conjunction with each conference. He mentioned the trend towards more hands on training as well as the Society consider discussing the issues of professional certification.

V. Legal Council Announcement

Matt announced that Ann Rosevear from the law firm of Walsh Baker & Rosevear has agreed to serve as general counsel for NGIS and related matters on a pro bono basis.

VIII. Other Items

Matt congratulated all the winners and sent out a special thanks to the Numont Mining Company for there efforts and involvement.

In closing Matt touched on some conference trends. The maturation of NGIS has gone hand in hand with the advances in the technology. NGIS will continue to seek further expansion in the rural markets and explore a possible partnership in the future with the annual mining conference held in Elko. The result of this has led to greater diversificaion of the NGIS and it's members. Finally Matt encouraged everyone to email the new NGIS President Sharon Rice with any input or ideas for NGIS.

Art Ehrenberg thanked the vendors, especially those repeat vendors who participate year after year, for their involvement. It was mentioned that all this would not be possible without their involvement.

Art also mentioned that the planning is already underway for the 16th annual Nevada State GIS Conference to be tentatively held at the Orleans Casino in Las Vegas in the first week of April 2006.

IX. Meeting Adjourned.
